We have been the experts in travel to Australia and New Zealand for 25 years. So why specialise in Australia and New Zealand? If you had ever been to either of these two magnificent countries, you would understand why this truly is a rhetorical question.

Between the two of them they cater for all. From the cosmopolitan charms of the cities to the harsh beauty and wide open spaces of the Outback. From the cinematic splendour of New Zealand's mountains to the delights of the indigenous cultures. We've taken the road less travelled. We've taken the time to learn those places and experiences that make the difference between a holiday and an everlasting memory.

So whatever you are looking for from your holiday, we can point you in the right direction to find it.

Australia

Australia is white sands and tropical reefs, fiery red earth and megalithic rocks, forbidding outback and underwater seascapes. For every side of Australia you already know, there is another waiting for you to discover...

New Zealand

New Zealand countryside is varied and beautiful; long white beaches, glacier-capped mountains, fjords, lakes and forests, rolling hills and grasslands. It is all packed into a country that's just a little bigger than the UK...

Stopovers

Stopovers are more than an opportunity to stretch your legs and do some duty free shopping. They are an opportunity to relax or get an additional taste of culture on your way to your final destination.

Our consultants are experts at arranging stopovers en route to Australia and New Zealand. We offer stopovers in some of the most dynamic cities and truly interesting places of the world. From Shanghai to San Francisco, Tokyo to Tahiti.

You can tailor-make your very own individual stopover itinerary or choose from our carefully selected 2 to 4 night holidays. These stopover holidays include airport to hotel transfers and stays in a variety of excellent hotels across the world.
